METHOD
OFFER · LEADS · CLOSE

NIRVANA LIFE

MARKETING ALIGNMENT BRIEF

One offer. One message. 14 units to close.

Everything we've built with the sales team, applied to marketing.

Prepared for the Nirvana Life Marketing Team · July 2026

GROUND WORK

Six weeks of sales work. Here's what we found.

Before we talk about marketing, here's the context. An on-site audit, strategy sessions with Toby, and two workshop sessions with Susi and Natasha gave us a clear picture of where leads convert and where they go quiet.

212	144	74	8	14
LEADS IN CRM	MEETINGS HELD	STILL WARM	UNITS CLOSED	REMAINING

What the Offer Workshop built

- Mapped Dream Outcomes across 3 buyer profiles
- Value Equation scored across all 4 levers
- 10 buyer objections surfaced and mapped
- Full Offer Stack built with standalone values
- 3 buyer Epiphany Bridge stories identified
- Scarcity and urgency levers defined
- Guarantee language locked and standardised
- Tower 1 pitch reframed for 2 buyer profiles

The finding that matters for marketing

The same project is being described differently in every channel. Ads say one thing. The website says something else. The sales team presents a third version. Buyers arrive confused. Confused people don't buy.

This brief is the shared foundation. One offer, one message, every channel saying the same thing.

WORKSHOP OUTPUTS

From the workshop floor.

DREAM OUTCOMES — WHAT EACH BUYER IS ACTUALLY TRYING TO GET

PURE INVESTOR

"Guaranteed return on capital. Part of the Nirvana investor community. First access to future projects."

LIFESTYLE INVESTOR

"A permanent base in Bali that earns while I'm away. The Nirvana experience every visit, zero property to manage."

NIRVANA TRUE BELIEVER

"Own a suite inside the club I already love. Earn while I'm away. My community is always waiting."

EPIPHANY BRIDGE — THE FALSE BELIEF BLOCKING EACH BUYER AND THE STORY THAT COLLAPSES IT

PROFILE	FALSE BELIEF	THE COLLAPSE
PURE INVESTOR	"Off-plan Bali is risky. No track record I can trust."	18 of 32 sold before the foundation was complete. The 10% is contractual: PM covers any shortfall. In writing.
LIFESTYLE INVESTOR	"I want my own villa. A 40sqm suite isn't what I had in mind."	Not buying 40sqm. Buying $18,900/yr guaranteed, a lifetime club membership, 28 nights in Bali, zero maintenance from abroad.
TRUE BELIEVER	"I already pay for the club. Why buy a unit on top?"	The buyers from 6 months ago pay the same fees you do. Their suite pays them back 10% a year. You're paying either way.

SCARCITY AND URGENCY — LEVERS TO USE NOW

UNITS REMAINING

14 of 32 units left. 18 already sold. Never say "limited units" without the number.

5% PRICE INCREASE — JULY

Same contractual return at a higher entry price means the yield percentage drops. Every week of delay costs the buyer real money.

AUGUST SELL-OUT TARGET

No future units at this stage or price. This is a one-time entry point.

TOP OBJECTIONS — WHAT MARKETING CAN PRE-ANSWER BEFORE THE SALES CALL

"Too expensive for a 40sqm room"

Reframe: not buying sqm. Buying yield + lifetime membership + community.

"How do I know the 10% is real?"

Contractual. PM covers shortfall. Documented and signed.

"Off-plan Bali is a risk"

18 of 32 sold before the foundation. Demand is proven before it's built.

"The nightly rate projections seem high"

Occupancy data and comparable rates need to be in every content piece.

"I can only stay 28 nights, it may be booked"

20% unbooked assumed in projections. Owner priority booking is built in.

"I already pay for the club"

The people who bought 6 months ago pay the same fees. Their suite pays them back 10% a year.

THE DIAGNOSIS

Strong offer. Weak signal.

The Value Equation measures four things that determine whether a buyer acts. Nirvana's offer scores well on all four. The gap is in how those levers get communicated, or don't, across marketing and sales.

VALUE EQUATION — CURRENT SCORES (SESSION 1)

NUMERATOR ↑
DREAM OUTCOME

3/5

Present but vague. Lifestyle vs. investment not unified into one frame.

NUMERATOR ↑
PERCEIVED LIKELIHOOD

3/5

Lowest proof lever. No buyer testimonials, no sold-unit count in marketing. Social proof is the fix.

DENOMINATOR ↓
TIME DELAY

4/5

Off-plan timeline communicated reasonably. Construction progress helps.

DENOMINATOR ↓
EFFORT & SACRIFICE

2/5

Biggest gap. "Fully managed, zero ops" is rarely said. Extension uncertainty and legal complexity feel unsolved to buyers.

WHAT'S MISSING IN CURRENT MARKETING

NO SCARCITY

"Limited units" with no number. 14 of 32 remaining is never stated.

NO URGENCY

5% price increase in July. August sell-out target. Neither appears anywhere in marketing.

NO SOCIAL PROOF ON SALES

18 units sold to date. No buyer count, no testimonials, no sold-unit announcement ever used.

UNTAPPED WARM AUDIENCE

79.6K Instagram followers. ~700 daily facility entries. Zero investment content in the bio, feed, or regular posts.

THE CREATIVE BRIEF

Three buyers.
Three stories to tell.

Every buyer has a belief that stops them from acting. The marketing job is to collapse that belief with the right story. One ad, one Instagram caption, one email per profile. Not one generic message for all three.

PROFILE	FALSE BELIEF (THE BLOCKER)	THE STORY THAT COLLAPSES IT
PURE INVESTOR Yield-first. Doesn't live in Bali. Compares against ETFs and property funds.	"Off-plan Bali is risky. No track record, no guarantee I can trust."	18 of 32 units sold before the foundation was complete. Not a projection. A market verdict. The 10% is contractual: if the hotel underperforms, property management covers the shortfall. Same structure as a guaranteed hotel lease. In writing.
LIFESTYLE INVESTOR Comes to Bali for the experience. Wants a base. Compares against villas.	"I want my own villa. A 40sqm suite isn't what I had in mind."	You're not buying 40sqm. You're buying $18,900 per year minimum, a lifetime club membership, 28 nights in Bali, and zero property management from wherever you live, all for the price of a studio villa that earns nothing while you're away and costs you to maintain.
NIRVANA TRUE BELIEVER Already a member. Travels to Bali for Nirvana specifically. The warmest lead available.	"I already pay for the club. Why would I buy a unit on top of that?"	The buyers who bought in 6 months ago pay the same club fees you do. The difference: their suite is paying them back. They're still members. They just own. You're paying for the community either way. One of those payments returns 10% a year.

HOW TO USE THESE IN MARKETING

- Each story is a separate ad set, email, or Instagram post. Not one message trying to speak to everyone.
- The Nirvana True Believer story converts highest. Prioritise it for the member channel and warm outreach.

- Lead with the story, not the features. Features come after the belief shifts.

WHAT YOU'RE ACTUALLY SELLING

This is not a property. It's an $884,000 opportunity at $189,000.

Current marketing communicates one or two lines of this stack. Every ad, email, and Instagram caption should be building the full picture before revealing the price.

WHAT'S INCLUDED	WHAT IT DOES FOR THE BUYER	STANDALONE VALUE
Your suite (40–44sqm, fully furnished, wellness-designed)	Fixed address in Bali, built around rest and recovery	$189K–$259K
10% ROI guarantee, contractual (years 1–2, PM covers shortfall)	In writing. Monthly disbursements. Not a projection.	$18,900–$25,900 /yr
Lifetime Nirvana Life Club membership	Full access to gym, spa, sauna, classes and café. Yours for life.	$134,000
28 personal use nights per year	Priority booking, already built into the yield projection	$151,000 over lease
Full property management (zero ops from abroad)	Bookings, maintenance, reporting: handled end to end	~$6,000 /yr equivalent
Private co-work lounge (owner-only, not available to club members or guests)	Your office in Bali. A space no member can access.	~$65,000 over lease
Private owner lounge and club area (exclusive to unit owners)	Owner status, not member status. A different tier entirely.	Exclusive (no dollar equivalent)
Legal support package: MOU, management agreement, notarisation	Everything a foreign buyer needs to close with confidence	$24,000
Total offer stack value		$884,000+
Your investment		$189K–$259K

"You're not buying 40 square metres. You're buying $18,900 per year minimum, a lifetime membership to the club, 28 nights a year in Bali, your own private workspace, and spaces in this building that no one else can enter, all managed for you, from wherever you are in the world. The suite is just how you access all of that."

THE PLAN

Two channels. One goal. Zero competition.

Paid campaigns and warm outreach work different audiences at different temperatures. They don't compete. They compound.

Channel A: Paid Advertising

MARKETING TEAM + SALES TEAM

- Marketing team runs Meta and Google campaigns, targeting cold and warm audiences
- Leads from campaigns go to Susi and Natasha as normal. No change to their pipeline.
- OLC contribution: message architecture, offer stack integration into ad copy, buyer profile targeting brief (this document)
- Goal: ads that pre-sell the belief before the lead reaches the sales team

Channel B: Warm Member Outreach

OLC METHOD

- Target: existing gym members, email list subscribers, event attendees. Already Nirvana believers.
- This audience converts 3 to 5 times higher than cold traffic and requires zero ad spend
- OLC designs and runs the outreach sequence. Every response handled personally.
- All leads from this channel go directly to OLC for qualification and closing
- Requires: member/email export from Toby, reviewed and approved before anything goes out

Three things to fix this week

! Fix the broken yield placeholder on the investment website

The investment website FAQ currently shows "yields are [X]% gross" with the actual number still blank. Any investor who reads the FAQ sees this. Fix immediately.

1 Replace "Limited units" with the real number everywhere

Website, ads, Instagram bio: "14 of 32 units remaining (18 already sold)." Never "limited units." The number is the point.

2

Add a Sanctuary investment content pillar to Instagram

One post per week minimum: construction update, ROI explainer, or buyer milestone. The Sanctuary highlight exists. The feed content doesn't. 79.6K followers currently see zero investment content.